The Saint – Island of Chance (Season 5, episode 22)

The Saint is in the Caribbean, at the request of a friend who is killed before he can explain why he needs to see him. The man worked for a Dr. Krayford, a research scientist looking for a cure for illnesses, and the Saint, along with journalist Marla, goes to the island home of Krayford, who denies involvement in the murder but offers to put the couple up for a few days. The Saint finds photos taken by the dead man which leads him and Marla to some ruins, where there are chests full of gold bullion, salvaged from a plane crash some years earlier. It is obvious the doctor is using the gold to finance his research. The Saint needs to find out more before he can leave the island.
